Miss Florence L. Wilhelm

In appreciation of her endless patience, helpful interest, and dependable assistance throughout our high school days, we gratefully express our appreciation to Miss Wilhelm with this dedication.

F. R. Narragon, Superintendent
Ohio Northern University, B. S. in Education
Ohio State University, M. A.

As the end of this first post-war school year approaches, we are all happy to see many students and former students of this school returning to normal activities after having given generously to the vast effort needed to win a war. The task ahead is no less important than the one behind us. Each student and each alumnus is confronted with the duty of contributing all within his power to bring every activity of our school, city, state, and country — even of our world — to a normal state of progress and a proper state of spiritual and material advancement. Grasping greed, selfish disregard of others' rights, intolerance among groups about us and among nations of the world, are stumbling blocks in the way.

How can the Class of 1946, or any of the classes to follow, better justify its right to exist than by making through its members a contribution to the right solution of the problems now confronting our battered world? No one leader will offer all the right answers, but a united nation of intelligent workers for righteousness will be an unconquerable agent for peace and progress. The power and influence of any one of us may be slight; the Christian might of all of us can be tremendous.

Mr. Narragon.

J. L. McBride, Principal
Mt. Union College, A. B.
University of Wisconsin, Ph. M.

We, here in Leetonia High School, are interested in many things. Our objectives are many and varied. We are interested in scholarship and in making a fine scholastic record. We are interested in athletics, and strive to have the very best athletic program possible. We desire dramatic productions of quality. We are interested in music and we are proud of our musical organizations. We want our school to be beautiful and have, during the years, surrounded it with trees and pretty lawns.

Most of all, we are interested in the kind of boys and girls we are, and of the kind of men and women we will be. We want our school and community to be friendly and sincere. We want interesting and interested citizens working together. We realize such ideals will be accomplished only if we achieve our best, and practice now as young people in school, what we must do later as adults in the community.

Mr. McBride.

In the fall of 1942, 77 green Freshmen began their career as high school students. Getting acquainted with the group of boys and girls who had come from St. Patrick's School, the class waited until December 1st to hold the first class meeting. Under the direction of Miss Sheppard and Mr. Leever, our sponsors, we elected our officers. Pat Mancuso was elected President; Mike Salvino, Vice President; Guy Beltempo, Secretary; Lee Todd, Treasurer, and as our representatives for Student Council, we elected Dale Klingensmith and Arlene Clark.

After much discussion on which colors blended well, green and white were finally decided upon as our class colors. A white carnation was to be our class flower. The next problem was to think of a suitable motto. Finally Dale Nichols offered "With the spark of the past, we will light the flame of the future." We all liked this and the motto was quickly accepted.

Remembering that the prom was only two years in the future, we, as Freshmen, began to raise money. Two skating parties and a few candy sales were supported by the whole school and the proceeds started our bank account.

The 77 Freshmen were reduced to 68 irrepressible Sophomores. Miss Graham, Miss Joerndt and Miss Wilhelm were our sponsors and managed to guide us safely through the year. To get business under way, we elected class officers as follows: President, Pat Mancuso; Vice President, Lee Todd; Secretary, Guy Beltempo; Treasurer, Marian Mellinger. Student Council Representatives were Arlene Clark and Dale Klingensmith.

Our social activities were becoming more important as our second year in high school progressed. October 19 was decided upon as the date for our first hayride. As the day approached, the weather became worse, but we continued with our plans anyway. In spite of the dark clouds all who went had one of the nicest times of the Sophomore year.

Still trying to raise money, we again sponsored two skating parties as they seemed to be popular with the high school students.

Taking another step in our social careers, the Sophomores decided to start plans for the annual All-High Party. We had a very good time at this party and remember it as one of the most successful during our high school days.

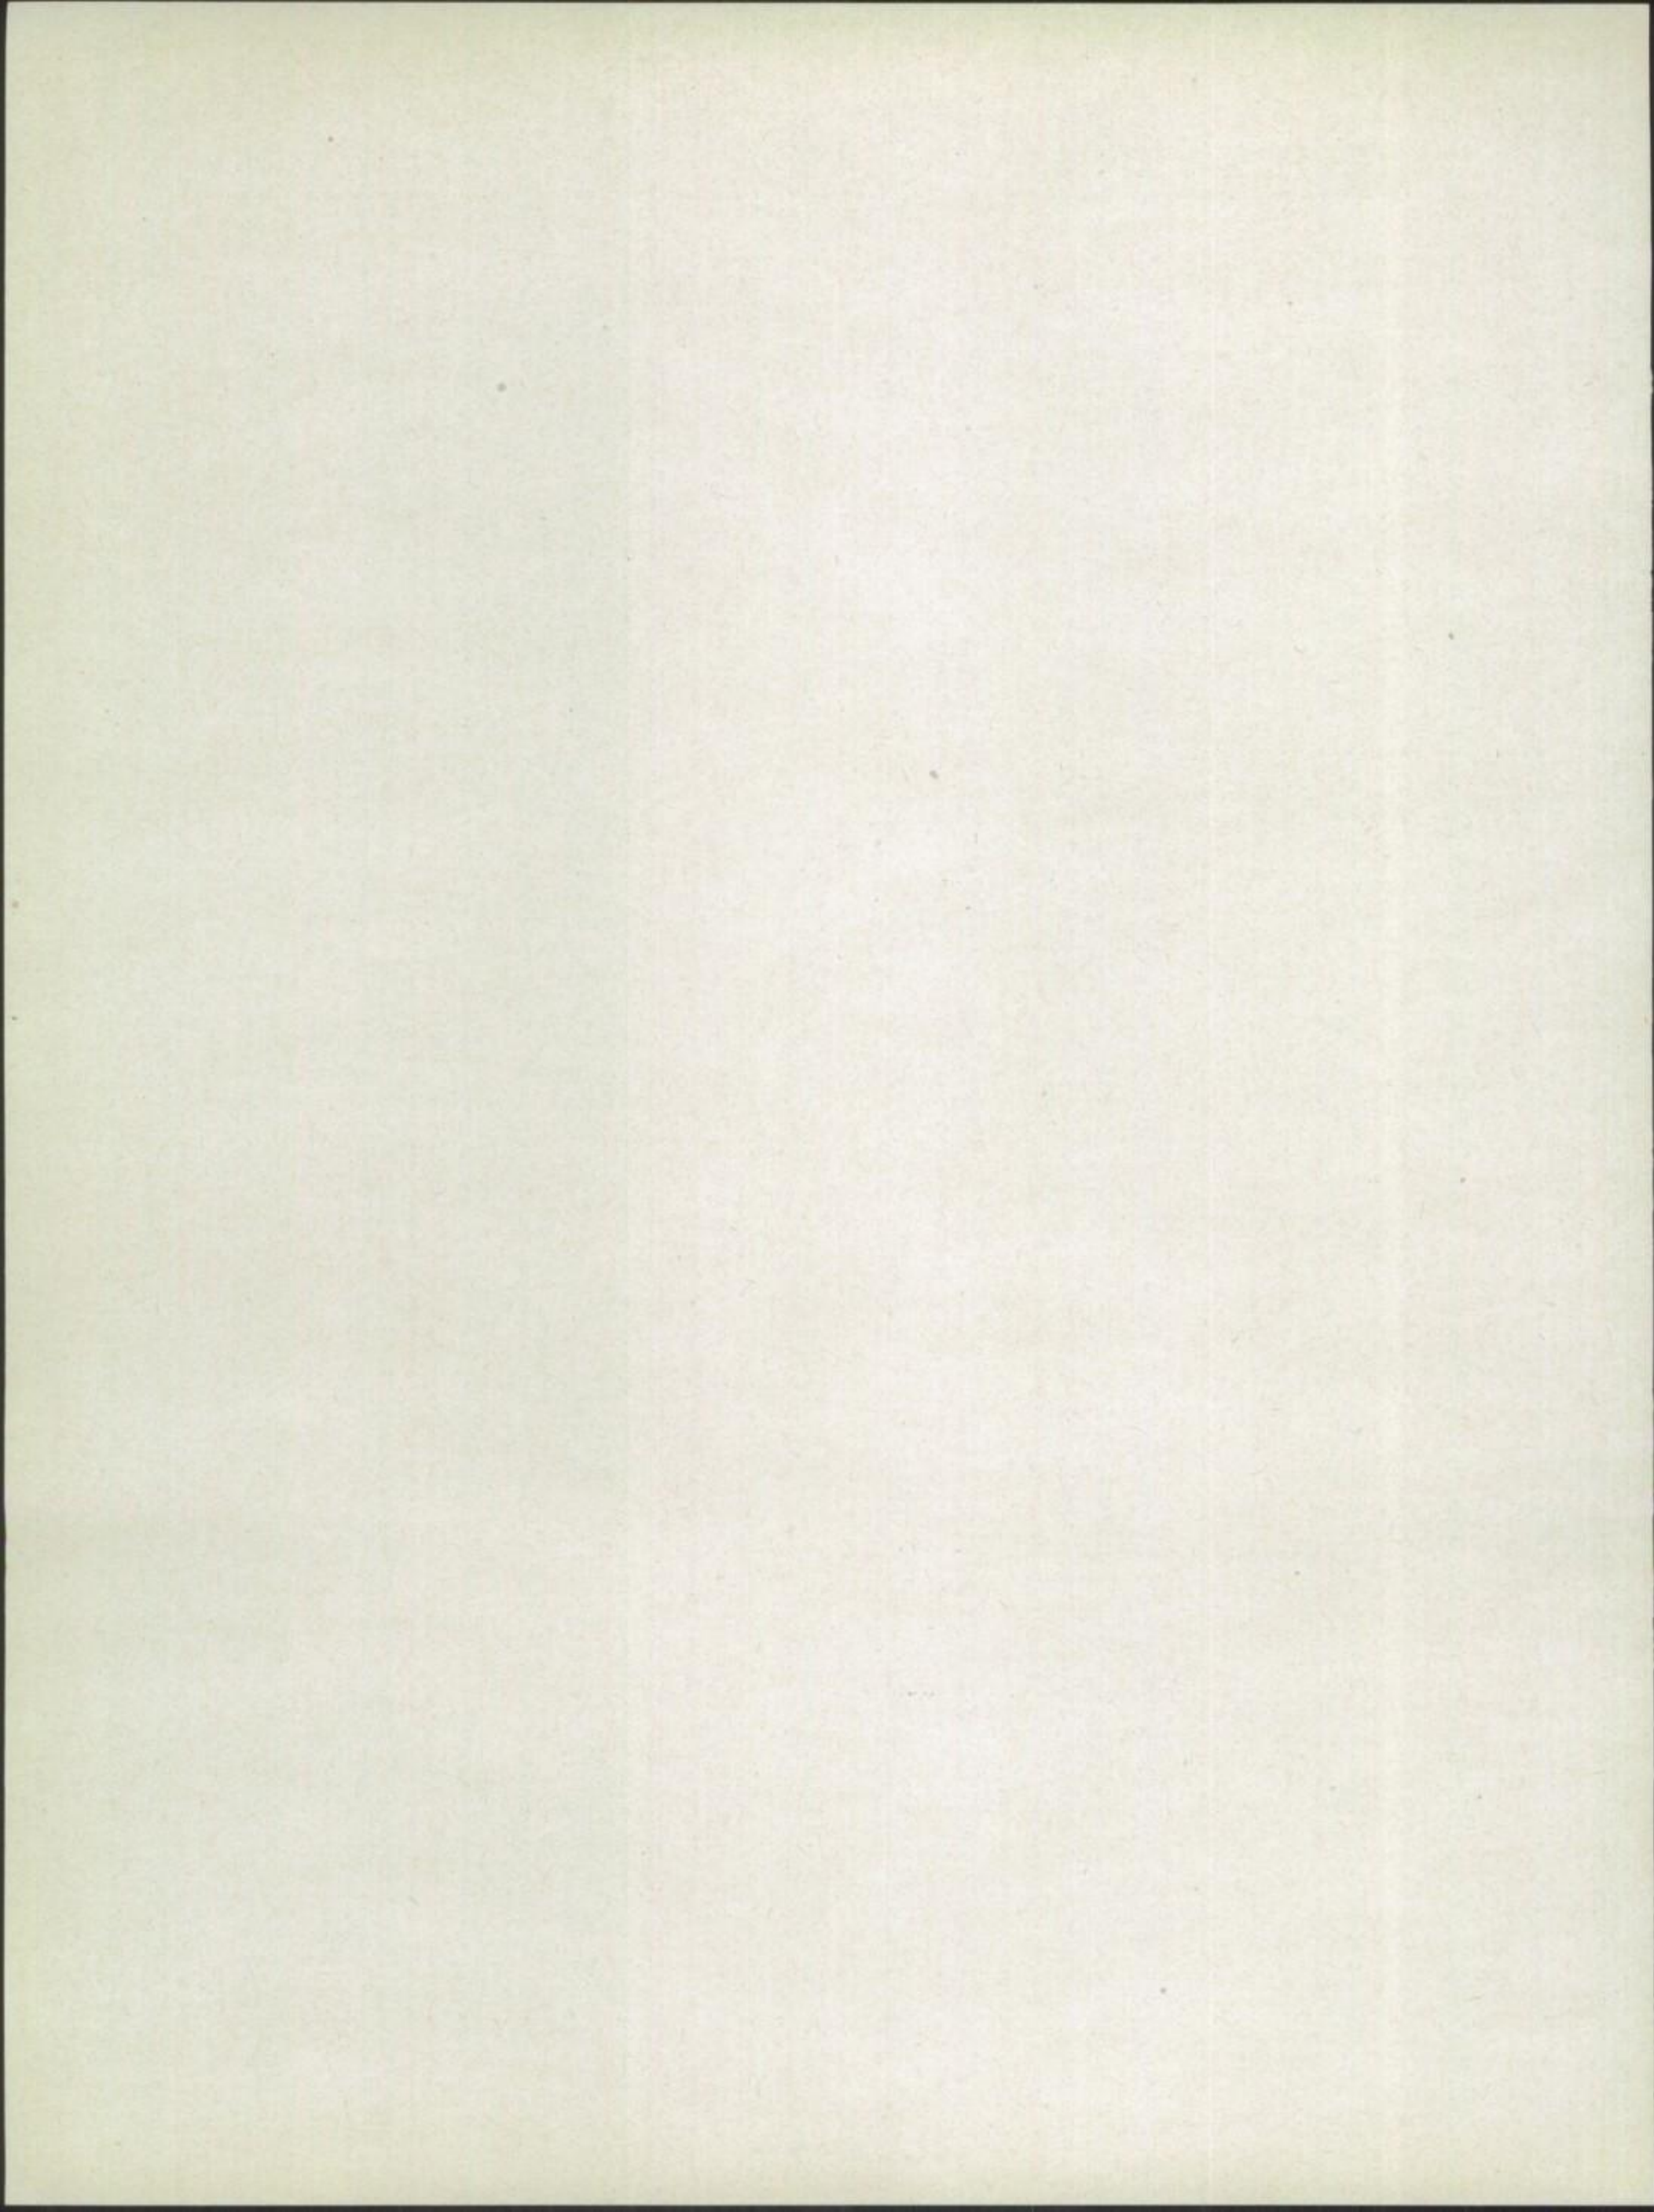

The first attempt at dramatics was made by several of our girls belonging to the Girl Reserves in the play, "Polly Put the Kettle On." Others had parts in the history pageant.

Hard work took up the rest of our time as the curriculum seemed to get more difficult as the years went by.

The years 1944-45 found 52 Jolly Juniors all together in Room 73 with Miss Wilhelm as the home room teacher. Officers elected were: President, Pat Mancuso; Vice President, Dale Klingensmith; Secretary, Arlene Clark; Treasurer, Marian Mellinger. Since we were upper-classmen, we elected three council representatives for the two ensuing years. Arlene Clark, Dale Klingensmith and Bill Halverstadt were chosen to fill these positions.

There were many activities to brighten the year for the fun loving Juniors, and also many jobs to keep us busy. With the prom only eight months away, we really got busy to raise enough money to have a memorable one. First there was a skating party, then came the selling campaign. We sold at football games, and also pennants, beanies, Christmas cards and all attempts were profitable. Then came our Junior play. Most of the Juniors had very little acting experience, but under the able direction of Miss With, we worked hard to make our comedy, "Brother Goose" a success.

In our search for a good time, we attended a Junior-Senior Sweater Dance, the All-High Party and the other activities sponsored by the organizations in the high school.

The highlight of the year came May 5, the night of the long awaited prom. We really had a wonderful time dancing to the music of Shy Lockson. We really had worked hard to hide the gymnasium "Under A Starry Sky." Much of the praise for the success of our prom belongs to Miss Wilhelm who was the impetus behind the whole affair.

The end of May and our Junior year came to an end all too soon. We all remember that year as one of the best.

September 7, 1945, the diminishing class of 1946 gathered together as Seniors in Room 71 and 76 with Miss Wilhelm and Miss Kearney as home room teachers. Election of officers brought the following results: Dale Klingensmith, President; Guy Beltempo, Vice President; Bill Halverstadt, Secretary; Marian Mellinger, Treasurer; Joan Laughner was elected to fill the Student Council vacancy left by Arlene Clark who had moved to Arizona.

During the past three years there were 29 of our original 77 pupils who left us either to marry, to go to another school or to enter the Armed Forces. As the year progressed, several ex-servicemen returned to finish the school year with us.

This year kept us busy with as many activities as we could arrange. We sponsored the first All-High Party November 30 of the year and together with the Juniors, held a Sadie Hawkins Dance on October 19th.

After much procrastinating, we finally got started on our annual. It was decided that the class pictures would be taken by the Johnson Studio in Lisbon. January 28 and 29, we were excused to have our pictures taken and the following Thursday our proofs were ready for us.

The second semester found us helping to organize many of the activities which had been discontinued during the past few years. The first activity of the semester was an All-High Dance, the first ever held by the school. Other dances were enjoyed after Friday night basketball games.

On April 25, we presented our Senior play under the direction of Miss Kearney. The play was entitled "The Sunshine Twins," and included in the cast: Larry Duco, Marian Holt, Marian Mellinger, Bill Halverstadt, Dale Klingensmith, Becky Townsend, Bob Kornbau, Helen Briggs, Pat Mancuso, Jean Gabriel and Joan Laughner.

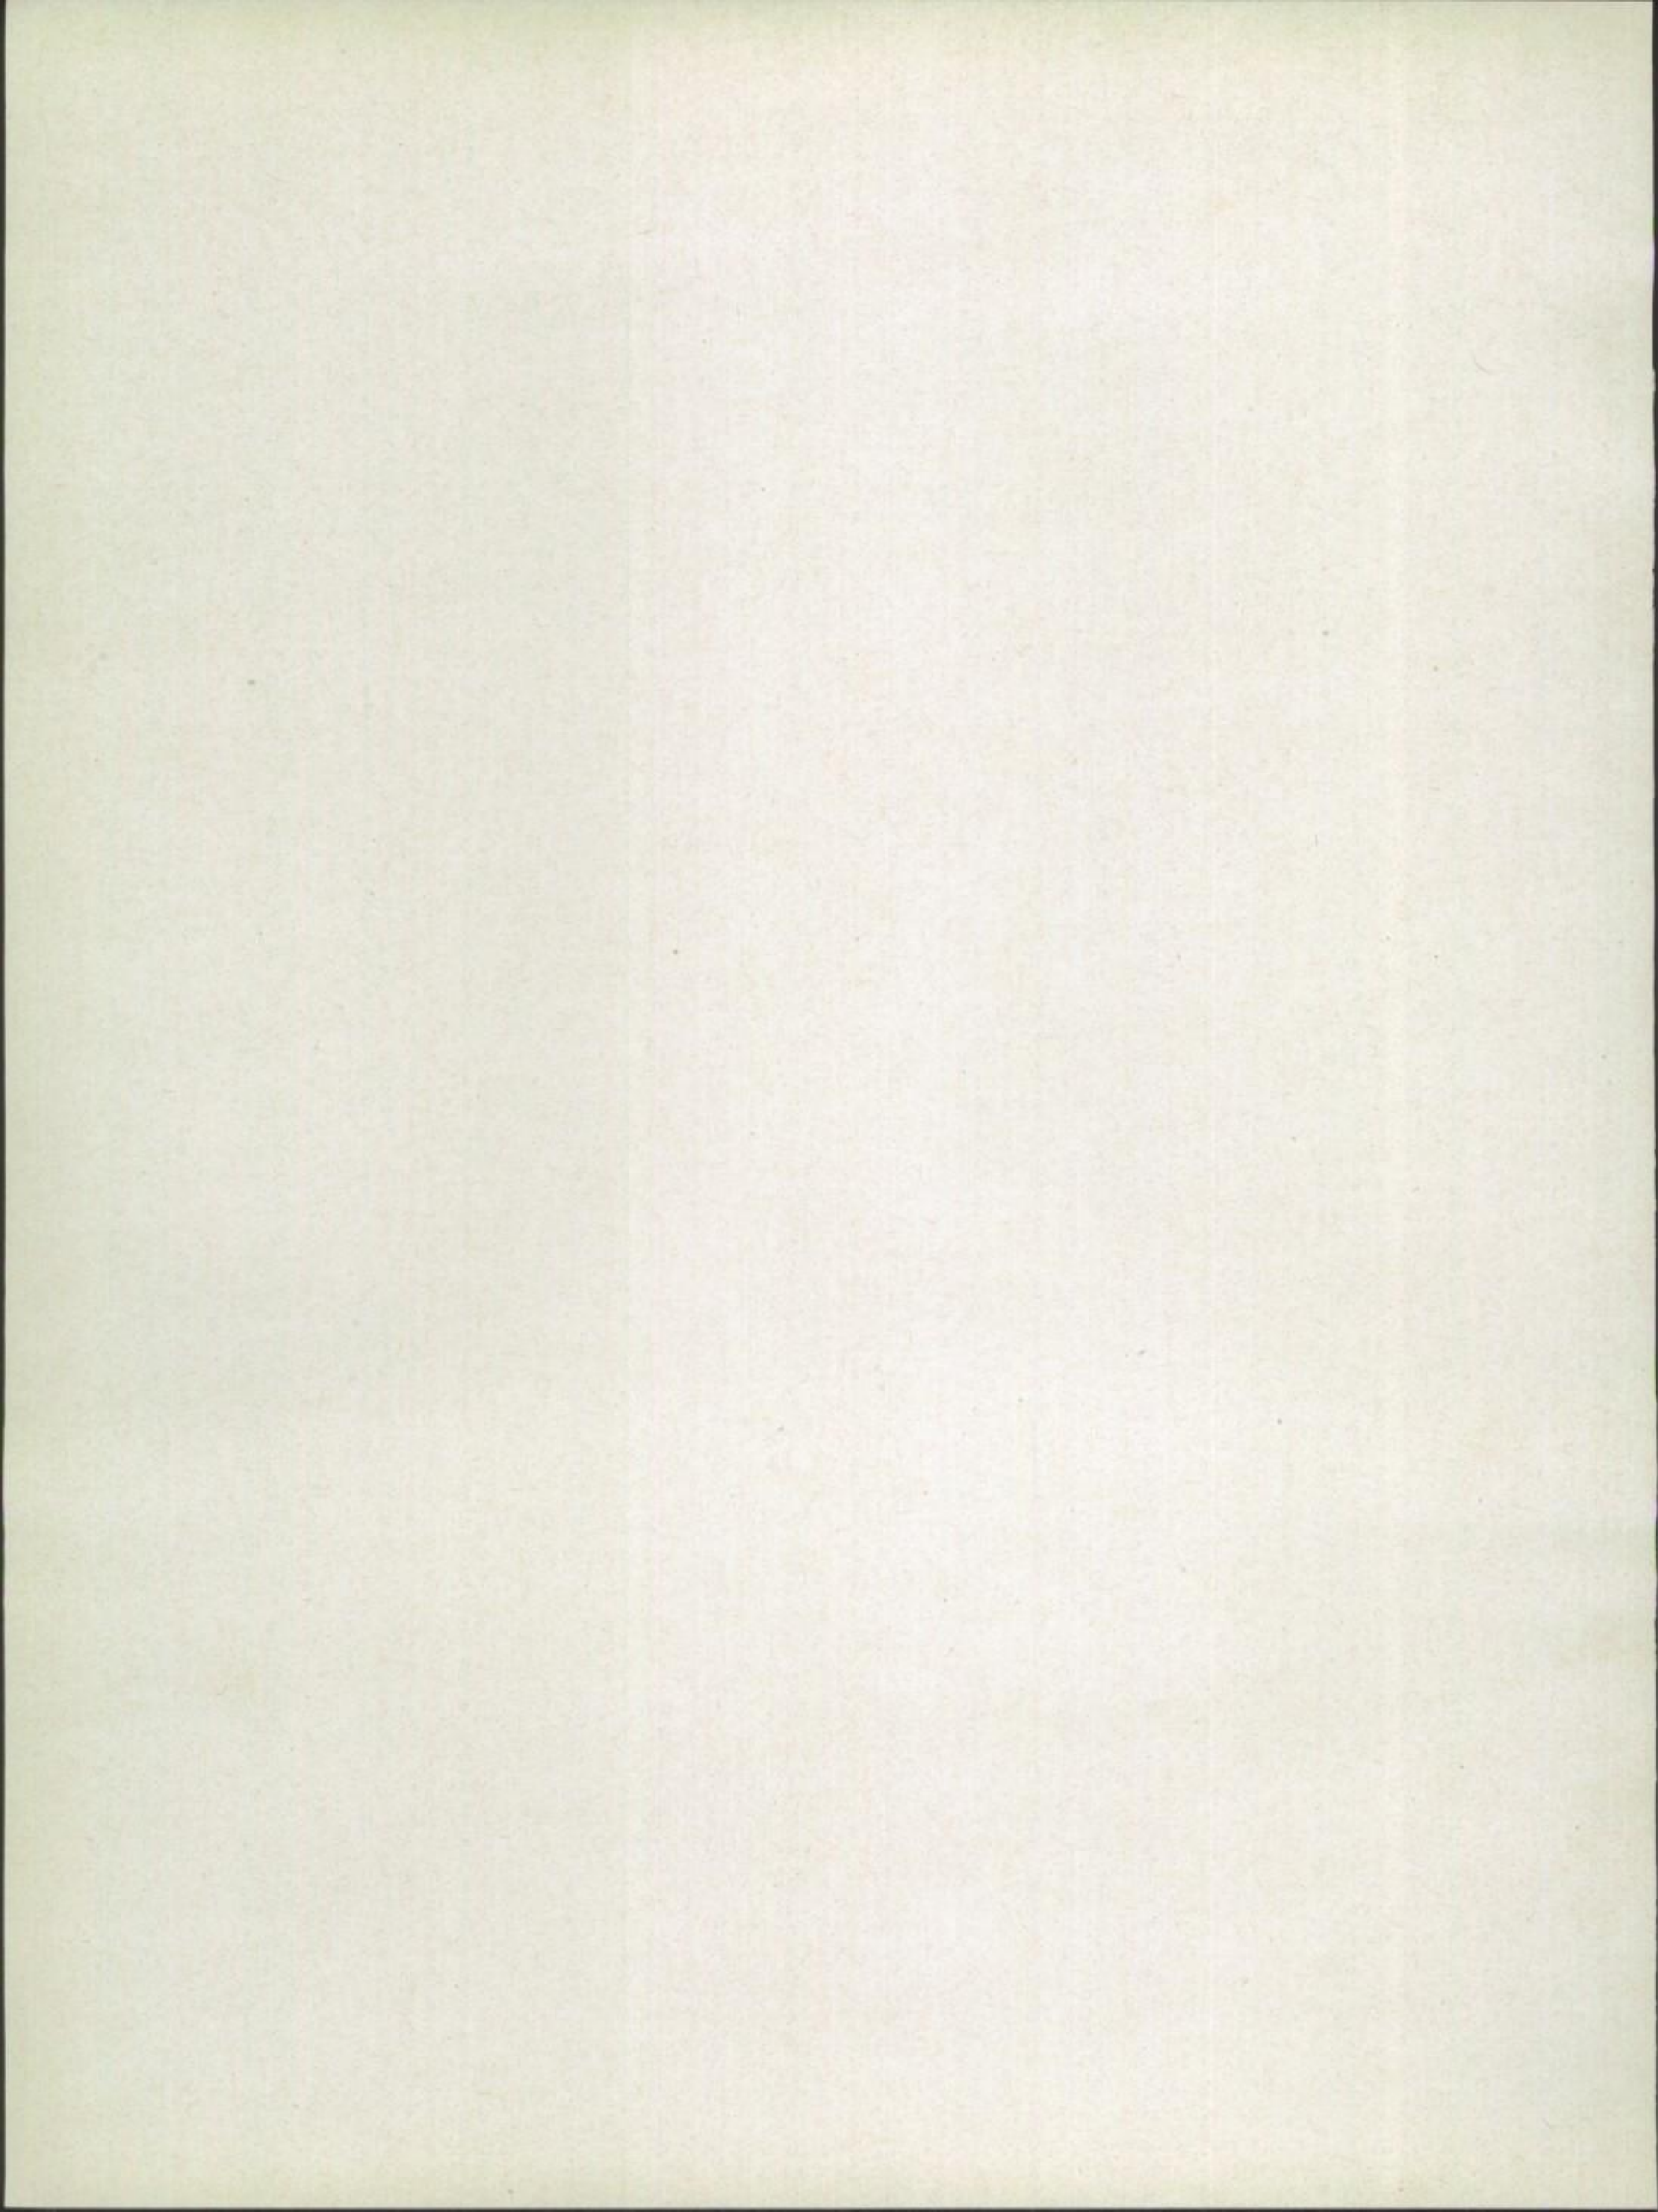

May soon came, and with it the Prom. This time we were the guests and we all appreciated the Juniors' work and worry that goes into a prom. Everyone had a wonderful time, but the Seniors were beginning to realize that their high school life would soon be in the past.

With the selection of Commencement Announcements, the Seniors began thinking about coming activities. Class Day was May 17, followed by the Baccalaureate Service May 19th. And then Commencement, May 23rd — the biggest event of the year. Leaving the school and many of our friends was harder than we expected and thus we ended our careers in Leetonia High School.

We, the Senior Class of 1946, being sound in mind and memory, do hereby make public and declare this document to be our last will and testimony, revoking all others.

Since we are about to depart, we bequeath the following will all due respect to those they leave behind.

To the faculty we leave Peace and Quiet.

To the Juniors we leave the high standards we have attained.

To the Sophomores we leave our ability to earn money for your Junior Prom.

To the Freshmen we will our dignity and intelligence to you, our respectful inferiors.

Glenn Bailey leaves his Ford to Sam and Babe so that they can get to school on time.

Mary Baulo leaves her animation at basketball games to Jerry Mercure.

Don Bell leaves his Honor Roll record to Polly Rankin.

Pauline Bell leaves her "bell-voice" to the choir to give to anyone who might need it.

Guy Beltempo leaves his position as captain of the football team to Jim Dricoll.

Helen Briggs leaves her way with the boys to Rita White.

James Carlisle leaves his seat in Senior homeroom to his sister Mary.

Clarence Carter leaves to work at the Crescent Machine Shop.

Arlene Clark leaves and takes Korney with her.

Jack Coppersmith leaves his way with the girls to Willie Hedl.

Albert Cox leaves and is glad of it.

Mary Ellen Cutchall leaves but she certainly doesn't have far to go.

Shirley DeJane leaves her blonde hair to anyone who has the time to put it up.

Fred Dominic won't leave his blondes to anyone.

Larry Duko leaves his curly hair to Paul Murphy.

Paul Eskay leaves once more — but not for the Army — thank goodness!

David Fenstermaker leaves his muscular build to Jack White.

Donna Fiscus leaves her quiet ladylike manner to Rita Perry.

Jeannie Gabriel leaves for Greenford as soon as she can make it.

Marie Griffith leaves her seat in typing class to any Junior who wants to try to do as well as she has.

Goldie Guidley leaves her designing ability to Jensie Ferry.

Bill Halverstadt leaves his many presidencies to Bobby Spatholt.

Helen Hinerman leaves her crutches to the football team in hopes that no one will have to use them.

Marian Holt leaves the Tatler and all its un-met deadlines to Rosemary.

Dale Klingensmith leaves many girls with broken hearts.

Lettie Klink leaves to place her diploma on the wall of her home on Walnut Street.

Robert Kornbau leaves his football position to anyone who wants a broken finger.

George Lance leaves for Case and all the studying to be done there.

Joan Laughner leaves her red hair to match Phyllis Daisley's temper.

Pat Mancuso leaves to argue with the professors at college. Good luck, Pat!

Josephine McNeely leaves to work at Isaly's steady.

Marian Mellinger leaves for Dennison amid the flutter of last minute preparation.
Dale Nichols leaves to go to the moon in his V-2 rocket with Olivia.
Francis Perry leaves and is taking his diploma this time.
Tom Reese leaves his promptness to Bob Spatholt.
Verda Roller leaves her silly giggle to Rhea Gotthardt.
Margaret Snow leaves her ability to remain unnoticed to Elmer and his bright bow ties.
Joseph Sposato leaves the Industrial Arts Department but really hates to.
Amelia Stancato leaves her Home Economics ability to her sister Gloria.
Patty Stoffer leaves her obedient manner in school to her brother Donald.
Lee Todd leaves to join Dora Conkle in Holy Matrimony.
Alice Tolp leaves to become a secretary in Warren, preferably.
Becky Townsend leaves to rear her family of six little Perrys.
Ross Vestal leaves his unlimited ambition to Barbara Roose.
Doris Walker leaves her ready smile to June Jones.
James Warner leaves his ability to carry on a class discussion to DeVere Grappy.
Virginia Wikinson leaves to settle down on a little farm in Greenford.
Vera Waggle leaves her height to Ruth Brain.

The above document was at the same time declared by them to be their last Will and Testament.

Signed as Witnesses,

Mary Baulo

One beautiful moonlight night, May 24, 1956, I started on my journey to the moon. I traveled by rocket. My pilot, Dale (Omar) Nichols, drove cautiously for the light from the stars was glaring on the Platluminum metal of the ship and almost blinded us at times.

The first planet on which we stopped was the Cutchellano, named after that famous woman explorer, Mary Ellen Cutchall.

Being tired and hungry from our long trip, we stopped at the Wilkinson Wayside Inn where Virginia served us the special Fiscus Biscuit named after that cookery expert Donna Mae Fiscus. While glancing through the newspaper, I found that a new king of the Planet was being chosen. It was none other than Bill Halverstadt the First. Dale Klingensmith, his scientific expert, had invented a chemical called Klingoxide that would take excess weight from fat people and add weight to skinny ones.

We decided to listen to the radio and imagine our surprise when we heard Jean (Hutton) Gabriel singing, "Doctor, Lawyer, Indian Chief" to the accompaniment of Tom Reese's orchestra. After resting, we explored the town some more and discovered that Fred Dominic was doing very well in the Recreational Business. It seems that he has recreation centers all over the universe. While talking to Fred he told us that Arlene and Korney were married and living on the planet right next door to Lee Todd and Dora Conkle. As we were leaving Fred's Recreation Center we ran into a group of servicemen who seemed very engrossed in their conversation. After a second look I saw that two of them were former classmates of mine — Admiral Vestal and Sergeant Sposato. While talking to them we learned that Becky Townsend was married to Francis Perry and that they were successfully rearing their own basketball team. Also, we learned that Al Cox was playing Romeo in a neighborhood theater with Mary Baulo as Juliet.

After seeing and hearing these things we decided to leave this planet and continue to our destination.

The next planet we stopped at was Klinker, named after Lettie Klink. While I was there, I ran into Shirley DeJane who is the chief reporter on a newspaper edited by Joan Laughner. Shirley says that Marian Mellinger really puts their paper out in a hurry since she got her new printshop equipment. Shirley told us that Marian Mellinger also was busy setting up the type for Marie Griffith's book "How To Be Cultured" which promises to outsell anything Emily Post ever wrote. Shirley said that Marie and Goldie Guidley, who is now a dress designer, are still great friends. She also told us of the promotion of Dave Fenstermaker to the presidency of the Wolfing Club. All he did was howl a little and he got his promotion.

When I returned to the ship I found that Margaret Snow and Amelia Stancato had cleaned it well and filled our supply chest with delicious pre-cooked food.

I left this planet wondering about the remainder of my classmates and I stopped on the moon, which was our last stop, I became determined to find out. As I walked down the street I met Alice Tolp and Helen Briggs who were secretaries to the new king, Halverstadt the First, whom I mentioned before. They were in a terrible hurry, but they told me that there was a fortune teller in town and that perhaps she could give me the information I desired. While trying to find the fortune teller, I stopped at a house and who did I find but Marian Holt and George Lance. They, too, were in a terrible hurry, so they directed me to Madame Knows It All and I departed. At the large sign of Madame Knows It All, I entered and found myself confronted by a familiar figure in typical fortune-teller garb. Soon I remembered the face and spoke. Sure enough, it was Pauline Bell. She told me that Josephine McNeely is the owner of an Isaly's Store and that she has a special singing cook, Glen Bailey. Also, she showed me crystal-ball movies of the game between two professional teams at L. H. S. stadium. The opposing coaches were Pat Mancuso and Guv Beltempo with Larry Duko as referee. It was really some game.

Finally I took leave of Madame Knows It All to find a little recreation. After a short search, I found, by the help of Don Bell's famous ads, the Roller Rink. Just as luck would have it, Jim Warner and Vera Waggle were giving one of their breath-taking skating performances that night. I went to my hotel in a daze of crazy spins. At the hotel, I met Jim Carlisle, the elevator boy who said that Paul Eskay was the owner of the hotel, and that Clarence Carter was the chef.

I went to my room and dressed for dinner. When I came down I was surprised to see Dick Conkle running around like mad. He was having trouble with his trained dogs. Paul wouldn't let him keep them in his hotel so he was being ejected.

In the dining room I was met by the hostesses, Patty Stoffer and Doris Walker who told me that Helen Hinerman was now married to Eugene Eyster and that Verda Roller owned a skating rink.

Surprised to find that I now knew the whereabouts of all my classmates, I resolved to go home and see if Jack Coppersmith had yet tired of his job as president of the U. S.

Back in the year of nineteen hundred and forty-two,
We entered Leetonia as Freshmen — New and True.
Since then, through all the trial and strife
Of any student's High School life
We've done our best for Leetonia High,
Without one tiny reluctant sigh.

At times we've left the straight and narrow path,
Just as sometimes, we neglected our math,
But never far nor long to stray
Always to return to that long and narrow way.

After four long years of study and fun,
The end of it all has suddenly come.
We're seniors now and it's time to go
But we wish before we leave that you might know,
We've loved it here and we must confess
Our hearts will long remember L. H. S.

The Class of 1947 elected as their class officers for the year 1945-46:

Jack White.....	President
Jim Driscoll.....	Vice President
Barbara Roose.....	Secretary
Jerry Mercure.....	Treasurer

The Juniors chose as their Class Flower, the Lily of the Valley. "We pull the most when we pull together" was chosen as their class motto, and they picked crimson and gray as their class colors.

To represent the Class of 1947 through their Junior and Senior years in the Student Council were elected: Sara Lou Todd, De Vere Grappy and Barbara Roose.

The most important events of the year in the Junior Class were the picking of the class rings, the Junior play, "A Case of Springtime" presented January 24, 1946, and the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom held May 4, 1946 in the high school building.

Our Student Council of 1945-46 has once again established itself as one of the most active organizations in the school. Upholding the traditions of Leetonia High School with its purpose to serve the students and the faculty in order to promote the best interests and welfare of the students, our Council cannot be surpassed.

By the tireless efforts of our Council, the way is paved for better relations among the faculty and students. This alone is a difficult task but to our Council, it is only a beginning. Its work is service and cooperation to the school performed in order to help keep school activities functioning smoothly. Some of these tasks are: the school calendar; Science-Vocational guidance for the principal's office; assemblies; programs for football games; starting Choir robe fund; football trophy honoring our State B Football Champions. It is easily shown in the previous examples that all funds of our Council are used to benefit the school.

In closing of the school year, our Student Council wishes Success to our followers in striving through Courtesy, Cooperation, and Service for good school spirit which is your greatest responsibility.

The High School Band, consisting of 43 members has spent a very active year under the direction of Miss Szalma. At the beginning of the year the following officers were chosen:

President.....John McCormick
 Vice President.....Bill Jackson
 Secretary.....Donna Yocus
 Treasurer.....Anna Mae Barnes

Also majorettes were chosen with Emerson Hively as head drum major. The majorettes were Helen Hinerman, Becky Townsend, Renee Beltempo and Patsy Sipe.

The band attended all football games providing excellent half-time entertainment for the fans. Also, they played at pep assemblies, and at various other activities, which adds up to a successfully busy year for the L. H. S. Band.

During the sixth period on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays the students of Leetonia High School have probably heard the sound of music floating from the Music Room. For those who heard and did not see; the music came from the voices of 38 L.H.S. students in the Choir led by Miss Szalma. The Choir has been practicing a few classics and several popular tunes to be ready for any special occasion which might arise. The Choir also has been selling magazine subscriptions to make enough money to buy robes for the Choir.

From the Choir Miss Szalma chose a Girls' Ensemble, composed of Phyllis Gilson, Rose Marie Guido, Donna Jean Yocus, Vada Cross, Annabelle Heinze, Joanna Smith, Audrey Archer, Rita White, Frances Milcetic, Renee Beltempo, Delores Perry, Carol Bell, and Norma Weikart and a Sextette composed of Donna Jean Yocus, Renee Beltempo, June Zimmerman, Eddie Exten, Bill Halverstadt, and Glen Bailey. The Girls' Ensemble and the Sextette are practicing so they may attend the Music Festival at Mt. Union College on April 26th.

This year The Tatler celebrated its fifth year of publication by initiating a printed Tatler. This was a venture which had been anticipated for some time and finally this year the Tatler "went to press."

There have been several other titles for school papers published previous to the Tatler, but in 1941 The Tatler was originated with Pauline Marshall as its editor. Since then, Dick Halverstadt, Pat Daisley and Barbara Barrickman have been the editors until this year when "Holt" and her assistant Rosemary Jeswald headed the staff of students with Miss Kearney as their faculty advisor.

Next year Rosemary Jeswald will be the editor as The Tatler enters its sixth year.

The Dramatics Club was reorganized the last semester of the year by the faculty advisor, Miss Kearney. Because of the time element and a previously filled schedule, not many activities were attempted. However, a one-act play, "Little Red School House" was put on. The club was open to Juniors and Seniors, but after the picture was taken, Sophomores were permitted to join. The club has about 35 members and the officers are: President, Bill Halverstadt; Vice President, Mary Baulo; Secretary, Jerry Mercure; Treasurer, Barbara Roose.

The Honorary Thespian Society starting with four members has made much progress in the field of dramatics. They have attended plays, selected play casts, helped direct plays and have done much to further the efforts of high school dramatics. Officers are: President, Mary Baulo; Vice President, Bill Halverstadt; Secretary, Marian Mellinger; Treasurer, Dale Klingensmith.

November 10	Carrollton	47	21
November 17	Copley (at Salem)	46	6

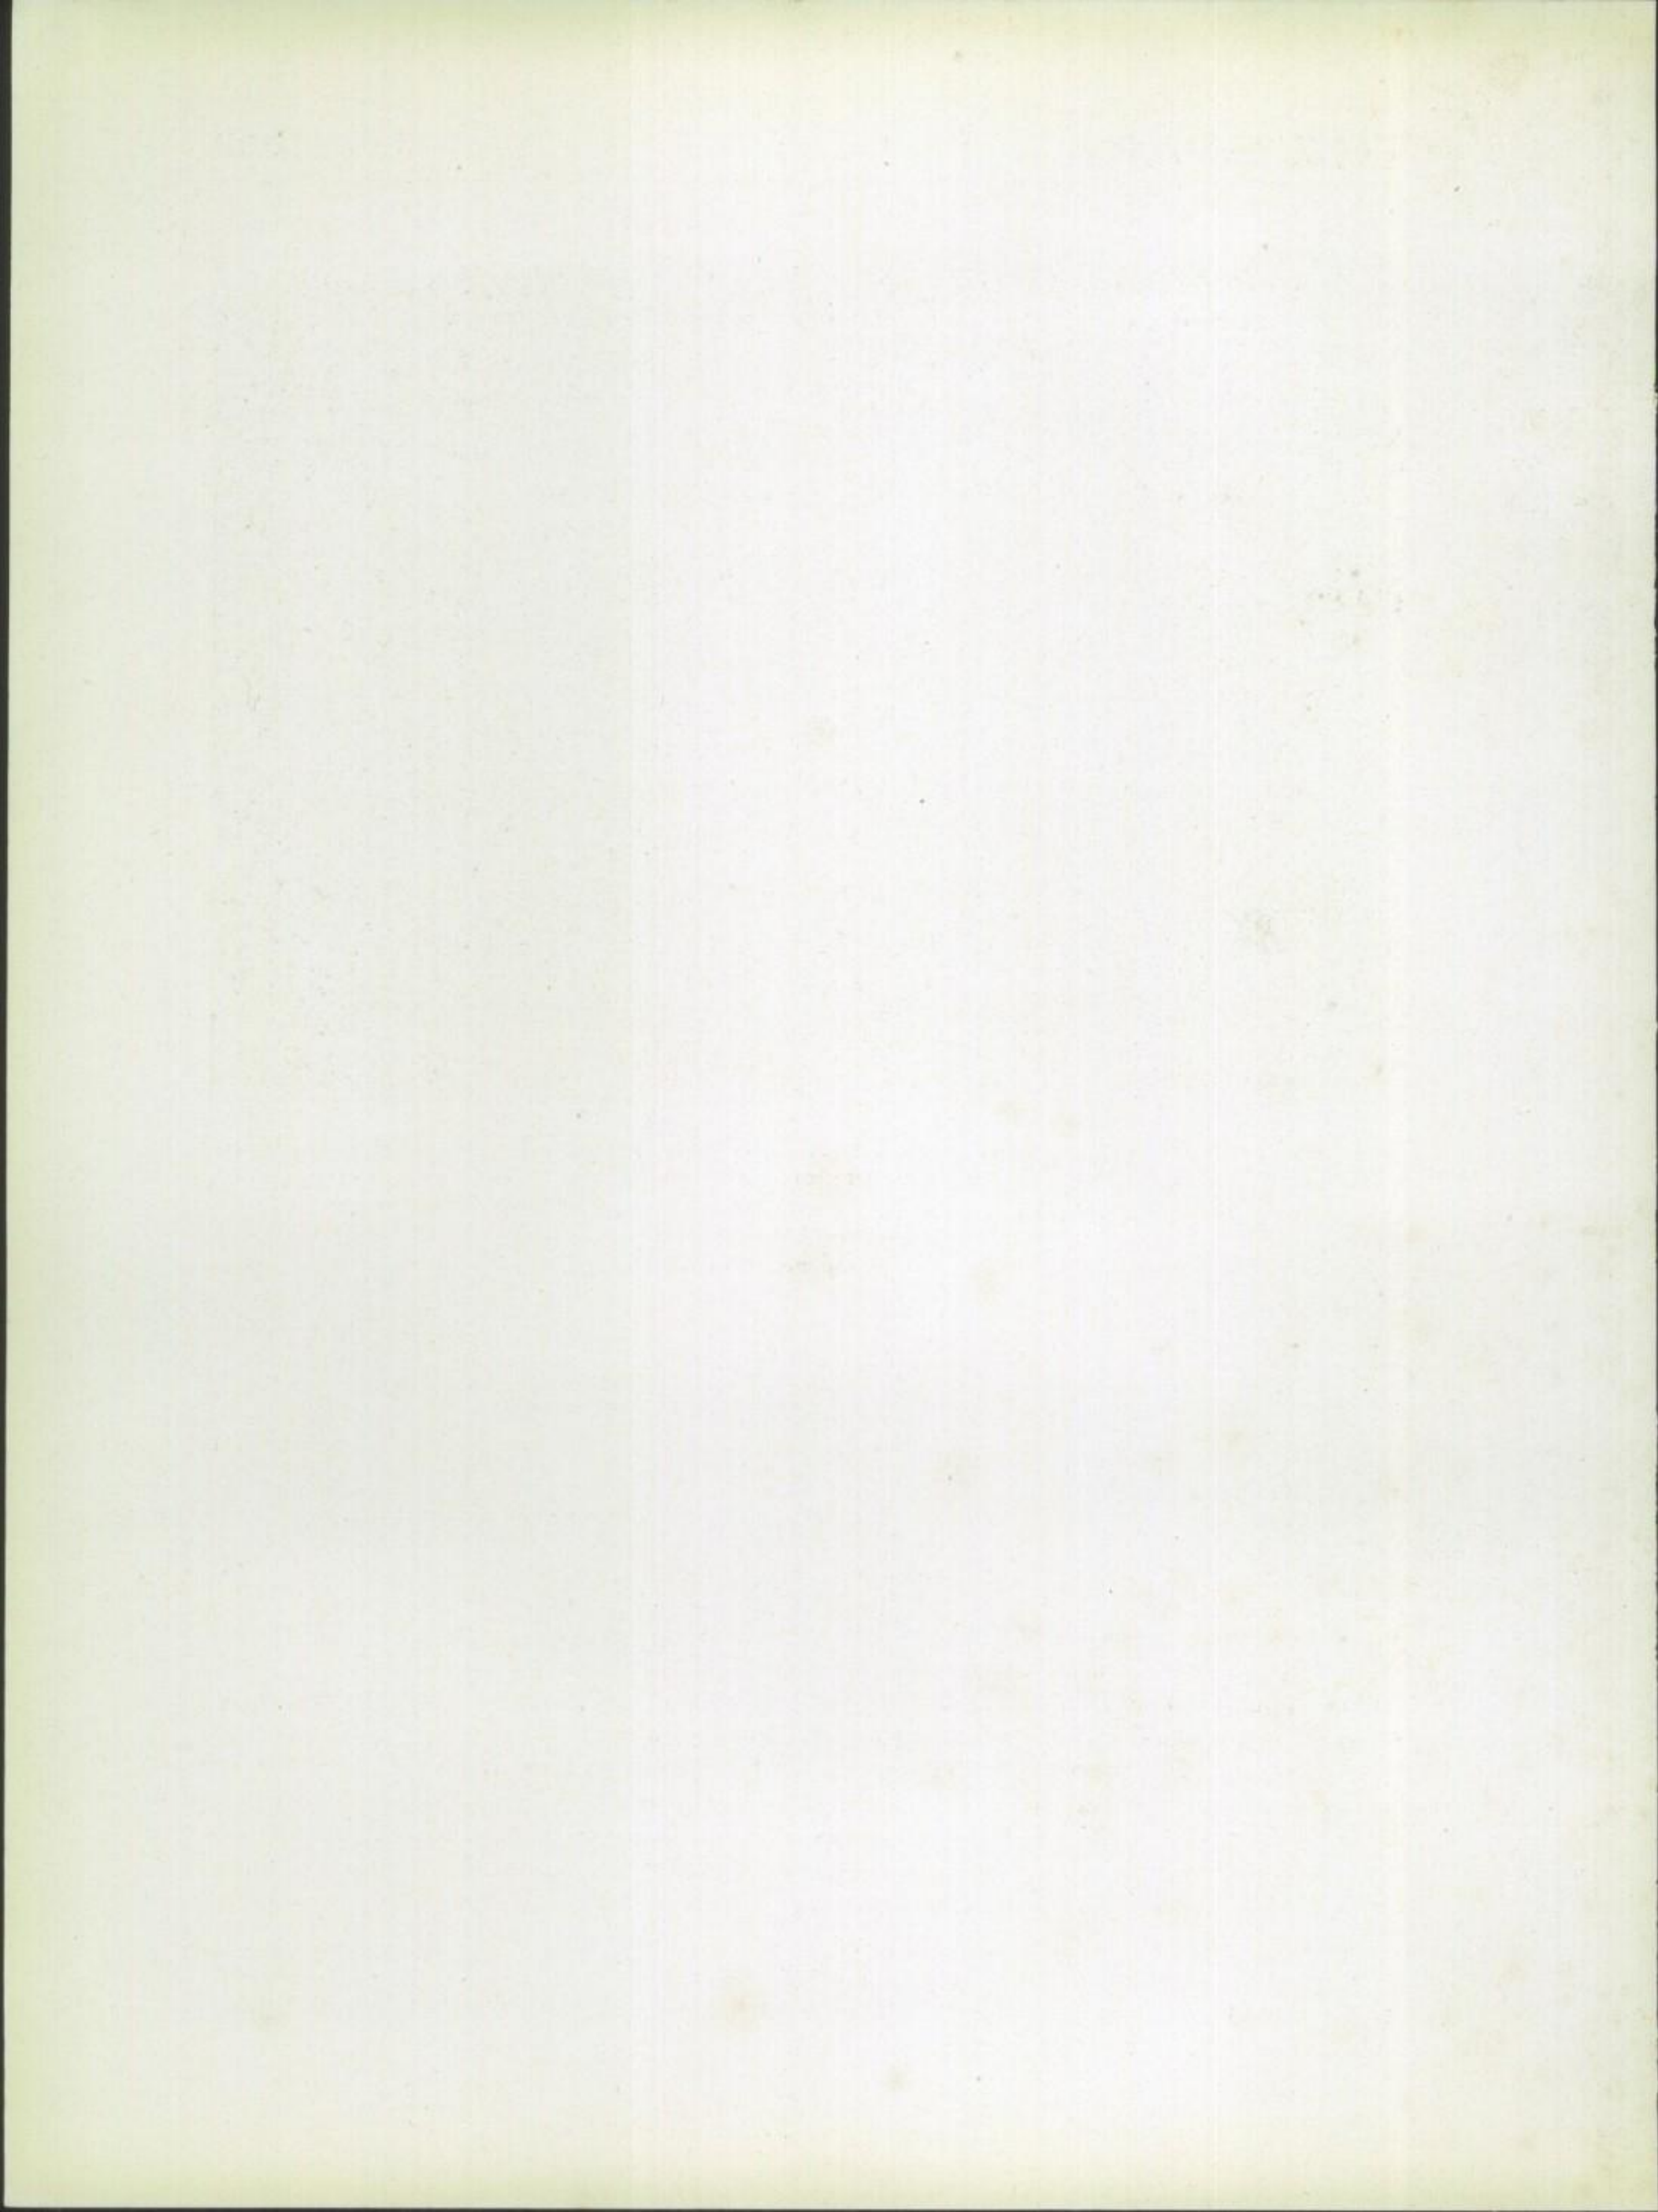

The Leetonia eleven ended a perfect season by defeating the Copley eleven in a post season game to become the holders of the mythical Class B Championship in Ohio.

The Bears downed all of their foes with the exception of Columbiana. This was one of the nightmares of a scoreless game we all dream about but hoped never would come true.

Leetonia scored 346 points to their opponents' 72. This is a record any team and school can be rightly proud of, which we are sure we all are.

Pat Mancuso, on left end, and Fred Dominic in the backfield, were high scorers for the season with 80 points each. Larry Duko and Guy Beltempo are next with 73 and 68 points respectively, which is good in any man's language.

Guy Beltempo and Dale Klingensmith were the co-captains who led this fine team through such a successful season under the coaching of Mr. Mather. Jim Driscoll has been chosen by his teammates to hold the position of captain for the 1946 season. We wish Jim Driscoll, Mr. Mather and the entire team all the success in the world.

The L. H. S. Basketball boys dribbled onto the hardwood hoping for a season as successful as the just completed football season. The squad was made up of 19 members: Six Seniors, Seven Juniors, and Six Sophomores.

The regular session which was to start December 7 with Lisbon, was postponed due to the flu epidemic. The epidemic also caused the delay of all games until after the holidays.

After we began our season on January 4th with Damascus, the Bears went to work and didn't stop until they were ousted from the tournament competition by Leavittsburg. In the end figures showed the Bears had won 8 games and were defeated in 8 while they had scored 546 points to 582 for the opposition.

Although the season has produced no great record, undoubtedly the team is one of the better L. H. S. teams. With the quality of basketball in Leetonia increasing, the team of 1946 wishes the future teams success.

GIRL RESERVES

The outstanding girls' club in school is the Girl Reserves, a division of the Y. W. C. A. This year, the enrollment was seventy-three, which included twenty-eight absolutely new members. The officers are: President—Sara Lou Todd; Vice President—Barbara Lee Roose; Secretary—Phyllis Daisley; Treasurer—Audrey Archer. During the year they attempted to "clean-up" the girls' locker room, provide worthwhile evening programs, go to the annual prom. Some of the girls helped serve the football banquet while others took part on special committees for the Easter breakfast and assembly.

HI-Y

The newly organized Hi-Y Club is getting under way very well. They have at the present 32 members on their roll. Mr. Stevenson is the advisor and the officers for the school year of 1945-46 are: President—DeVere Grappy; Vice-President—Robert Carey; Secretary—Emerson Hively; Treasurer—Elmer Sweeley.
